HMConnects™ Cost Containment Program
It’s important to have methods for containing costs in place before a claim is even on the horizon. After all, the ability to control costs may be far less successful when efforts are made after the fact. Unmonitored claims can rise quickly, with significant implications, so incorporating a cost containment strategy from the very beginning enables better management of high-dollar claims that could have the potential to escalate to catastrophic levels.

At HM, we use data and trend observations; smart business practices like the proactive oversight of claims; and knowledge of vendor engagement opportunities to make recommendations that can help our clients and/or their administrators gain better control of claim outcomes and costs. This approach is executed through our HMConnects™ cost containment program.

As part of HMConnects™, our insightful and engaged team of cost containment specialists and our expert, in-house Pharm.D. work with TPAs, plan administrators, ASO providers and others involved in our clients’ claims processes to help bring more knowledge of ways to better control the scenarios driving high-dollar medical and pharmaceutical claims.
